General information

Nantes is France's sixth largest city, the booming capital of Western France, situated on the Loire River, close to the Atlantic Ocean, and has a metropolitan area comprising some 600, 000 inhabitants.

Nantes' most common nickname is the 'Venice of the West', a name owing to its position on the river delta of the Loire, the Erdre, and the Sèvre. In 2004, Time Magazine named Nantes 'The most liveable city in Europe' and in 2013 it will hold the title of the European Green Capital, awarded by the EU.

Following the tradition of previous events, the sixth Symposium will cover a broad range of topics related to the breeding and keeping of South American Camelids in Europe.

The invitation to participants interested in other fibre producing animals is expected to stimulate the exchange of knowledge and thus enabling their expertise to be implemented on a more general scale.
